On-Wall Speakers

Step-by-step instructions on configuring your on-wall speakers.

Location: / Positionnement:

This is by far the most important step before we even begin the installation. For the most effective placement the speakers should be at roughly the same height as the middle of the TV screen they are to be used with, one to the left and one to the right of the screen. Otherwise, a height of five or six feet from the floor is ideal. Avoid corner locations if possible. Separate the left and right speakers by about 5 to 10 feet, or roughly half the listening distance. Please make sure the speaker wire has a clear path from your stereo or A/V receiver to the placement of your speaker.

The Axiom On-Wall Speakers are designed to be installed on a common stud wall, preferably fastened directly to a stud. If this is not possible the use of a suitable wall anchor (not included) will be required.
